OCTOBER—DECEMBER 2026 ISSUE

As the year comes to a close, it is a wonderful time to reflect on the people, businesses, and events that make the Tellico Village community such a special place to call home. This year has been filled with inspiring stories, local accomplishments, and meaningful connections, all highlighting the character of the community and the people who make a difference every day.

In this edition of Tellico Pulse, the Women in Business Spotlight features Leslie Capozzoli of Good Neighbors Shoppe, while Four Seasons Design and Living showcases a local business bringing style and inspiration to the area. Tellico Community Theatre celebrates the creativity and talent found on the local stage, and Christmas with a Purpose highlights the joy of giving back. Run Loco rounds out the community features with a focus on fitness, fun, and support for LCEF.

As the holiday season arrives, the holiday calendar offers plenty of opportunities to gather, celebrate, and make lasting memories. Thank you to the readers, local businesses, and community partners who have made this year meaningful. Wishing everyone a joyful holiday season and a happy, healthy New Year filled with continued connection, community pride, and exciting possibilities.

A fresh look for every season

Four Seasons Design and Living provides a fresh approach to home styling and decor by creating beautiful curated spaces that celebrate every season.

Founded last fall by Debbie Salyer and Holley Chitwood, the home decor business offers a variety of holiday and seasonal services, ranging from porch installations to tablescaping. Seasonal packages are also available in various styles, ensuring every client can enjoy a one-of-a-kind design that matches their own unique style.

In the fall, for example, clients can choose from a classic package of pumpkins and gourds or the signature pumpkin package that includes cornstalks, straw bales and a simple bow. A "forage" package that features grasses, magnolia and other more natural-looking materials.

At Christmas, clients have the option of choosing from packages like the Evergreen Entrance and Woodland Welcome, which provide fresh and false greenery and UV-resistant garlands.

"People really liked our custom-made fresh garlands last year," said Chitwood. "They love the smell and the natural aspect of it, and then we would decorate their pots with natural foliage and berries."

The duo is even able to do Easter installments, as well as patriotic designs for the Fourth of July—a big hit last year for the 250th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

Salyer said that all packages can be further customized with different addons, such as wreaths and bows.

"I would say our specialty is that we have very beautiful wreaths with mixed combinations—magnolia, boxwood, different kinds of ferns—and then we put a really nice ribbon with those that you can swap," she said. "So you could buy one wreath and swap it out throughout the year, basically with a bow."

Passion for design

Salyer said the concept for Four Seasons stemmed from her other business—Plant Concepts, which specializes in high-end landscaping design.

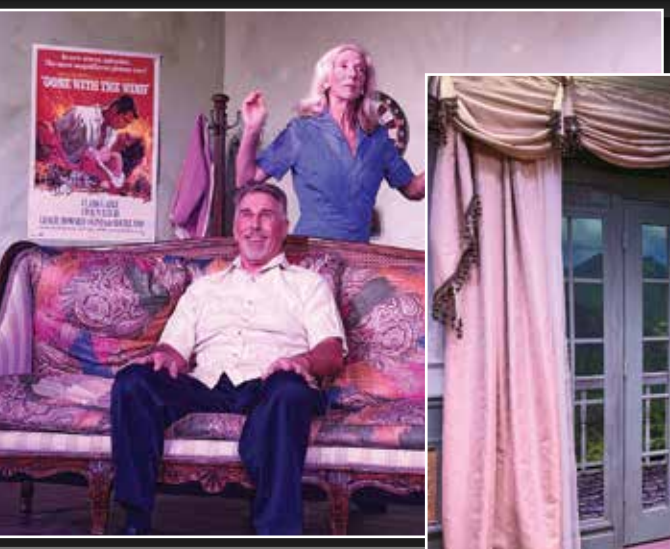

"We do a lot of seasonal color around pools and patios but partnering with Holley made it more capable to do the extent that we are doing now," she said. "We both like to decorate our homes and we started noticing a trend for seasonal decor packages, so we decided to give it a shot."

After a well-received first year, the business recently joined the Loudon County Chamber of Commerce and is currently leasing a booth at the Southern Market in Knoxville.

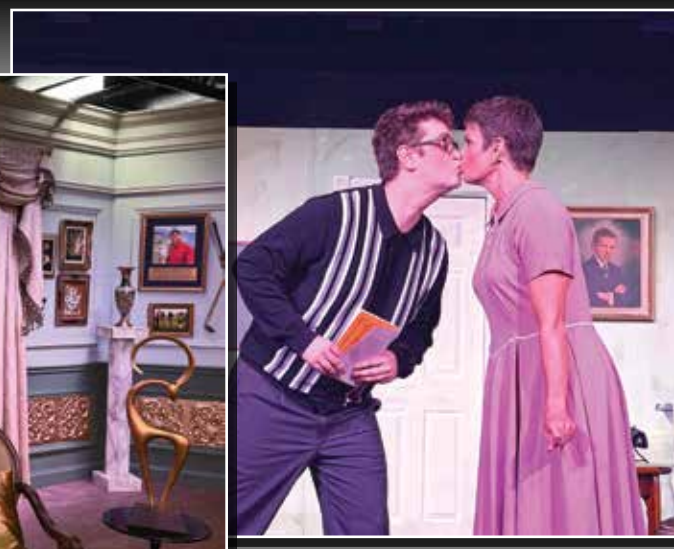

"Our pumpkin and Christmas packages went over so well last year that we wanted to open up more options for people, and we felt like we needed a place where they can physically go see things in person," said Salyer, adding that Four Seasons is interested in opening a space of its own at some point. "We would love to eventually have a storefront, where we can set up tablescapes and feature everything related to seasonal decor inside and out."

Theater in your own backyard

Tellico Community Playhouse takes center stage

If you happen to live in the Tellico Village area and you enjoy community theater, you're in luck.

Right in your backyard sits the Tellico Community Playhouse, an intimate and welcoming theater that stages high-quality productions of every genre: comedies, dramas, thrillers and occasionally musicals.

The theater, which moved to its current location — 304 Lakeside Plaza, Loudon — 12 years ago, was founded in 1990. Its location then was the Tellico Village Yacht Club..

Theaters commonly have a season schedule similar to a school year: first show in August, last one in May or June. Not so TCP: it does four shows each year that correspond to the seasons — a show in March, June, September and December.

Shows typically run three weekends, and sellouts at the 136-seat venue are common.

The December show this year is Neil Simon's The Sunshine Boys. It opens Dec. 3rd and runs through the 13th. The director is Ray McDonald.

Judie Douglas, a longtime Knox community-theater actor, has performed eight times at TCP, and has nothing but good things to say about her experiences there.

"The theater is a special place," Douglas said. "You walk in and you feel like you belong. Everyone wants to be there and they're very welcoming. I feel like that warmth is what keeps bringing people back. They try to work with you and want you to be happy."

Full disclosure: the author of this piece is not a disinterested observer. I've been a community-theater actor for 28 years, and have had the privilege of being in two shows at TCP: Wait Until Dark (June, '24), and Funny Money (June, '25).

Douglas, my friend both in the theater world and personally, was in both shows. In "Dark," I tried to kill her (regrettably, I was unsuccessful). In "Money," we were married.

I can agree with Douglas's flattering assessment of the TCP experience, and state further that the "everyone" she referenced is an amazing volunteer and support crew. From set-building to lighting, from sound to costumes, from wigs to makeup, TCP's talented and dedicated volunteers are a vital part of its success, and a wonderful bonus for the actors.

"Dark" was directed by Dennis Loy, "Money" by Bill Paxson, a California transplant who moved to the Village in October 2021 and became the Artistic Director in 2024. He's a Board member, and regularly directs and acts.

Seven people comprise the Board of Directors, which meets monthly. Steve Mayberry is Board president. There's no official time limit for Board members, but sooner or later there's always turnover, according to Paxson.

As Artistic Director, Paxson is responsible for overseeing the technical functions - lighting, sound, set construction. Paxson and the tech people meet bimonthly "to make sure everyone's on the same page about past projects and upcoming projects."

Paxson also heads the committee that selects which shows will be staged each year, and he decides who will direct each show. Anyone can apply to be a director.

"We don't just hire directors from Tellico," Paxson said. Paxson's sister Laura Paxson is coming in from Washington state to direct the first show of 2027: Vanya and Sonia and Masha and Spike (Mar. 4-21) which won the Tony Award for Best Play in 2013.

Lisa Silverman is a longtime Knox actor and director, and has done both at TCP.

"All of my experiences (at TCP), both on stage and off, and every interaction with every volunteer have been a pleasure and a joy," said Silverman. (TCP) and its volunteers strive to operate as a top-notch professional theater company, and do a fabulous job to deliver high-quality, extremely enjoyable live theater to its audiences."

Auditions are open to anyone, and there are always at least two different audition dates. Rehearsal schedules can vary widely: the actors might have to rehearse only three times each week, or it could be five. Larger roles typically require more rehearsal nights than lesser ones, which is true at any theater.

If you've ever been curious about being on stage, consider giving auditioning a shot. I and any actor can attest that there's nothing quite like being on stage in live theater, and TCP is a great place to do it.

(In "Dark," I played a deranged psychopath - hold the jokes - and when I came out for my curtain call each night, I was roundly booed. It was better than any applause.)

A teacher's lesson in giving back

Leslie Capozzoli spent 30 years with Maryville City Schools, where she taught English and drama at Maryville High School. During her time as a drama instructor, the Lenoir City resident said she was constantly visiting thrift shops throughout the area searching for props that could be used in school plays.

"Someone told me I should check out Good Neighbors and, when I did, I was just blown away," she said of the resale shop located at 420 Leeper Parkway in Lenoir City. "I couldn't stop thinking how beautiful the shop was and how clean everything was."

Capozzoli was so impressed with Good Neighbors Shoppe that, after retiring from teaching 9 years ago, she decided to use her time to serve as a volunteer at the store.

"I thought it was a really good idea, so I went through orientation and started as a cashier," she said.

She then went on to become the shop's manager, as well as an active member of Good Neighbors' scholarship committee, before being nominated to serve as vice president of the board of directors. One of the best parts of this new role, Capozzoli said, is having the opportunity to give others "a boost up."

"My goal is to help those in need, and we really are helping people in so many ways," she said. "We help them, obviously, so that they have extra money for their groceries and their medicines and housing and all that, but we're also helping people with the companionship that we give to people, which is so worth it."

Christmas with a Purpose

Greenback-based instrument cable manufacturer Armor Gold Cables is kicking off the giving season with a family-friendly holiday concert aimed at helping those in need.

Set for Saturday, Nov. 28 at The Venue at Lenoir City, Christmas With a Purpose will feature three nationally recognized artists—Casey James, Mark MacKay and Morgan Myles—sharing their musicianship and personal stories. All proceeds will benefit Cold Hands Warm Hearts, a local homeless and compassion ministry located at the Calvary Baptist Church Annex in Lenoir City.

Mark Zastrow, who owns Armor Gold Cables with his wife Pamela, said the whole point is to give back to the community—and ultimately celebrate the reason for the season.

"We love getting involved and making a difference in the community," he said, noting that Armor Gold Cables has previously organized benefit concerts for Hurricane Helene relief efforts, Turning Point USA and the Community Coalition Against Human Trafficking in Knoxville. "It's near and dear to our hearts to help people in East Tennessee who are less fortunate than we are."

Musician Casey James, a good friend of the Zastrows, has also been a part of many of these charitable events. For him, utilizing his musical gifts to help others has been a major mission throughout his career.

"Not everyone has the same situation on their hands but what we all have is time and some sort of gift that we've been given that can be used to serve one another in some way," James explained. "So for quite some time, it's just been my goal to use the things that God has blessed me with to do good in the community and, by doing so, change the world."

In fact, although he's originally from Texas, James said that he moved to the Nashville area over a decade ago, and has particularly fallen in love with the people of East Tennessee and their innate drive to make a difference.

"Nashville is so densely populated, and there's so much going on, that sometimes it's tough to really make as much of a difference because the local area is so saturated with people, events and fame," he said. "I've been really blessed to have Mark and Pam—boots on the ground in East Tennessee—in a place where I feel like efforts to help just goes a lot farther, so I've kind of adopted East Tennessee as my new home of the heart."

In addition to the musical performances, Christmas With a Purpose will also offer various activities for children, including hot chocolate, cookies, a coloring station and even Santa Claus.

"This is going to be a family-friendly event, which I think is a rarity for live music, but we really encourage people to bring their kiddos," James said. "We want everybody to enjoy it as a family."

Plus, by bringing your children along, James said that you are teaching them what it means to be charitable and compassionate.

"You're showing them that we're meant to encourage one another to give with an open heart, knowing it's a blessing to be able to do that," he said. "It's like, look, no matter how much or how little you've got, you can always help out. You can always do something for somebody."

While this is Armor Gold Cables' first time organizing a holiday benefit concert, Zastrow and James agree that the hope is for Christmas With a Purpose to become an annual event.

"I think it's just a perfect way to kick it off the holiday season and remind ourselves that it's not just about getting but about doing for others, and about being able to share the blessings that we've been given."

SH-BOOM! A CHRISTMAS MIRACLE

November 6-December 19
Cumberland County Playhouse
Written & Created by Roger Bean
The holiday sequel to 2025's smash hit Sh-Boom! Life Could Be a Dream! It's 1966. A few years ago, Denny and the gang achieved overnight fame when they won the WOPR Radio "Dream of a Lifetime Talent Search" as "Denny and the Dreamers."
After a few years of touring and having a taste of the big time, the fledgling group broke up over slights and grievances, mostly petty and non-existent.
In this holiday sequel, the gang gets back together to perform again as a group for the Christmas Bazaar at Wally's church. Denny and Eugene won't speak to each other, Duke and Lois are in the middle of an unacknowledged marital spat, and Wally is left to broker the peace for Christmas. Filled with great '60s doo-wop hits and holiday classics.

IT'S A WONDERFUL LIFE: A LIVE RADIO PLAY

November 20-December 20
Cumberland County Playhouse
Adapted by Joe Landry
It's a Wonderful Life is based on the story The Greatest Gift by Philip Van Doren Stern
Inspired by the classic holiday film, It's a Wonderful Life comes to captivating life as a live 1940s radio broadcast. With the help of an ensemble that brings a few dozen characters to the stage along with producing live sound effects, the beloved story of idealistic George Bailey unfolds. Small-town everyman George Bailey is having a Christmas Eve that can only be saved by a miracle. Enter George's guardian angel, Clarence, who takes him on a heartwarming journey of redemption proving that "no one is a failure who has friends." This unique, live performance captures all the warmth and charm of the holiday and is perfect for the whole family.

SMALL TOWN CHRISTMAS IN SWEETWATER

Saturday, November 28, 2026 • 5 to 8 PM

100 Main Street, Sweetwater, TN 37874

HAYRIDES, SANTA & A LIVE NATIVITY

Downtown Sweetwater, Tennessee, will welcome families for Small Town Christmas on Saturday, November 28, 2026, from 5 to 8 PM. Gather your favorite people and head to Main Street for an evening of holiday shopping, food, live performances, and familiar Christmas traditions. Start by wandering among the vendor booths and visiting downtown businesses.

Pick up something to eat, enjoy the entertainment, and leave room in your evening for the activities that make this celebration special. Take a hayride through town, then stop to roast marshmallows with the Sweetwater Fire Department.

Families can also get pictures with Santa before heading to Sweetwater Duck Park for the returning Live Nativity.

You could make this your after-Thanksgiving outing, with time to browse, enjoy a treat, and share a few Christmas moments together. Let everyone choose a favorite stop, whether that means meeting Santa, watching a performance, or taking one more look around the shops. Leashed pets are welcome if they are comfortable around crowds.

READY, SET, HO-HO-GO! RUN LOCO RETURNS

Run Loco, the area's favorite scenic winter race experience, will return this December, giving members of the community a festive means of coming together to support a good cause.

Set for Saturday, Dec. 5, the 8th annual event will consist of a half marathon and the "Elf on the Run" 5k, both of which will take place along a picturesque stretch of Tellico Lake, with proceeds benefitting the Loudon County Education Foundation (LCEF).

"It's a wonderful community event," said Charles Elmore, LCEF executive director. "Tellico Lake is just a beautiful area, and it's in a time of year where it's not hot but also not too cold, so people can just get out and really enjoy it."

Open to runners—or walkers—of all ages, Elmore said that the organization has worked with Motion Industry to design a variety of sweatshirts, T-shirts and medals to commemorate the special event.

"The first 250 participants are guaranteed a hoodie and a swag bag," he said. "We also have a professional timer that will come in and clock everybody's time, and then we give out medals, so it's a really special deal."

Sterl The Pearl, the University of Tennessee's official game-day DJ, will also be onsite, announcing the race and hyping the crowd. To add to the festivities, Elmore said that many participants choose to dress up as various Christmas characters, as well.

"Everyone comes together to do something unique with the race, from toddlers up to senior adults," he said. "It's just a very special Christmas experience because it allows you to do something for your community... It allows you to participate with the community that you have. And it doesn't require a gift or a recipe."

Elmore added that LCEF is looking for local sponsorships for the event, which range from $1,000 to $10,000.

"Every sponsor that we get by Nov. 19 will be listed on the back of the hoodies," he said, noting that businesses or organizations may also make "swag" donations. "If anyone wants to supply any items from their business or organization, please reach out to us, and we can give you the details."

For more information about Run Loco or to sign up for the event, visit visitloudoncounty.com/happenings/run-loco-2026-half-marathon-5k-elf-on-the-run-lenoir-city-tn.

Loudon County Chamber hosts annual golf tournament

LENOIR CITY, Tenn. — The greens at Avalon Golf & Country Club were buzzing with energy on September 24, as the Loudon County Chamber of Commerce successfully hosted its annual golf tournament. Our entire Chamber team is absolutely thrilled to bring this staple event back to life each year alongside our presenting sponsor, LCUB, as it serves as our premier opportunity to connect, unwind, and build relationships outside the traditional office setting. This annual event has grown to become a cornerstone tradition for Loudon County's local business community.

This year's activities featured fierce competition on the course, including the popular Long Driver opportunity and our Young Professionals Putting Contest. All the money raised from these special contests goes directly to support the high school golf teams in our county: Greenback, Lenoir City, and Loudon. These crucial dollars will help fund the golf activities of all three schools and ensure they have the assets they need to compete and succeed. Meanwhile, general funds raised through team registrations and hole sponsorships go back into financing the Chamber's community programs and local economic development initiatives.

The tournament followed its traditional four-person scramble format, allowing players of all skill levels to contribute to their team's success. This year, the course saw an incredible turnout with 26 teams taking over the fairways. With 4 players on each team, a total of 104 golfers participated in yesterday's tournament. Thanks to an outpouring of community support, this year's turnout represents the same number of teams and players as last year's event, matching our previous high mark of 26 teams and 104 golfers.

The competition was tight at the top of the leaderboard, but a few teams managed to separate themselves from the field. Taking home first place was Outlaw Trailers, followed by Peoples Bank in second place, and Kimberly-Clark securing third place. We want to extend a massive thank you to our winning teams, our presenting sponsor LCUB, our title sponsor Perimeter Roofing, and all the local businesses that have stepped up to make this year our most successful outing yet!

Young Professionals of Loudon County to host Christmas Luncheon and Annual Toy Drive

The Young Professionals of Loudon County (YPLC) will gather for their Christmas Luncheon and Annual Toy Drive on Tuesday, December 1st, from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Loudon County Technology Center, 4380 Harrison Road, Lenoir City.

Lunch is provided, and admission is a toy or donation for the Loudon County Family Resource Center's Christmas for Angels Program. A suggested toy list will be shared ahead of the event.

The Family Resource Center, located at the Tech Center, will host the luncheon and share how the Christmas for Angels Program impacts local children in need. The program serves over 400 students and children across the Loudon County school system.

The event begins with lunch and networking at 11:30 a.m., followed by a welcome and introductions at noon. The program runs from 12:15 to 12:45 p.m., and the event wraps up by 1 p.m., making it an easy fit for a lunch break.

YPLC is a group for young professionals aged 21 to 40 and operates as a council of the Loudon County Chamber of Commerce. The group hosts an event each month focused on networking, professional growth, civic engagement, and community involvement.

Attendees are asked to RSVP by registering online at loudoncountychamber.com. For more information or if you would like to donate but cannot attend, contact Blair Sitzlar at 865-458-2067 or blair@loudoncountychamber.com.

AGING IN PLACE

As we age, maintaining the dream of homeownership can become difficult. If you can't afford to add grab bars to make your bathroom safe or replace a leaking roof, how can you continue to live safely in the place you've called home for so long?

Loudon County Habitat's Critical Repair Aging In Place (AIP) Program makes critical home repairs that enable senior citizens to move around safely inside their homes, and continue to maintain their independence.

Applications are now being taken for our Critical Repair Program.
