Women in Leadership Chamber Event to Focus on Balance and Resilience

Presented by Pinnacle Financial Partners

How do you balance leadership, career demands, and personal responsibilities—without burning out? Women now make up nearly 58 percent of the workforce and lead more than 12 million businesses nationwide, often juggling significant professional and personal responsibilities. Join the Farragut West Knox Chamber of Commerce for an interactive panel exploring the pressures of multitasking, the hidden workload many women carry, and ways leaders prioritize what matters most while building resilience and practicing self-care.

The event takes place Wednesday, Feb. 18, 2026, from 4 to 5:30 p.m. at Embassy Suites, 9621 Parkside Drive. It will begin with casual networking over wine and charcuterie, graciously sponsored by Water Into Wine (valid ID required for alcohol service), followed by a 60-minute facilitated panel discussion and audience Q&A with three local female leaders from diverse backgrounds and at different stages of their careers.

Chrystal Armstrong Brown, president and CEO of United Way of Greater Knoxville, brings extensive nonprofit leadership experience and serves on multiple community boards. Tammy White, president and CEO of Leadership Knoxville, has led the organization since 2009, expanding programs that support leaders from youth through post-professional stages and launching initiatives such as Connect Knox and The Big Table. Missy Wallen, Knoxville chairman for Pinnacle Financial Partners, leads the firm's Knoxville client services group with more than 40 years of leadership experience and remains active in the community while helping leaders maintain balance across work, life, and service.

Seating is limited. Individual tickets are $25, with a discounted option of two for $40—perfect for bringing a woman mentor, mentee, colleague, or friend along. Reserved tables of eight and all sponsorship opportunities are available to Chamber members only and in limited quantities, including community, event, and presenting levels. We would like to thank our Presenting Sponsor, Pinnacle Financial Partners, as well as our community sponsors, Lapis Insurance and Main Event, for supporting this event.

To purchase tickets, visit farragutchamber.com > events. Contact the Chamber at 865-675-7057 with any questions.

Did you know that the start of a new year is one of the most popular times for individuals to consider leaving traditional employment to pursue entrepreneurship? The dream of leaving the everyday 9-to-5 job and becoming one's own boss sparks hope and excitement. The idea of entrepreneurship often paints a picture of freedom, flexibility, and unlimited success. However, the reality of starting a business is often far more demanding than expected and requires careful preparation and commitment. Below are a few common myths, and the truths, about entrepreneurship.

Myth: Be your own boss, set your own hours, and take all the time you need

Truth: While flexibility is a benefit, the early stages of business ownership often require long hours, including nights and weekends. Entrepreneurs frequently work well beyond a standard workweek. In today's digitally connected world, being "off" is rare, with emails, social media, and remote tools keeping owners engaged around the clock.

Did you know?

Myth: Pursuing your passion will lead to profitability and long-term success

Truth: Passion is important, but it must be paired with market research, strategic planning, adaptability, and financial understanding. Without a solid business plan, passion alone is rarely enough to sustain a business.

Myth: No more bosses, no more problems

Truth: Business owners are accountable for every aspect of their venture. From finances and operations to employees, customers, and vendors, entrepreneurs must make decisions that impact many others—not just themselves.

Myth: Entrepreneurship leads to quick profits and immediate success

Truth: Most successful businesses take time to grow. Many do not see profits for the first two years, and only about half survive five years. Long-term goals and resilience are essential.

Entrepreneurship offers opportunity and independence, but understanding the reality helps aspiring business owners prepare for success. If you are ready to move past the myths and take the next serious step toward business ownership, we at the Knoxville SBDC encourage you to reach out. We can help you navigate the realities of entrepreneurship with confidence and clarity to start, grow and sustain your business.
